

DEATH CERTIFICATES

The Lumpkin County Probate Court is the Vital Records Custodian for Lumpkin County. If the deceased died in Lumpkin County, you can obtain the death certificate at the Lumpkin County Probate Court. In some cases, if the deceased was a resident of Lumpkin County, we may have received a copy of their death certificate; however, please note that this is not common. If the deceased died in another county, their death certificate would be filed in that county. For example, if the deceased was a resident of Lumpkin County, but they were taken to Northeast Georgia Medical Center and were pronounced dead at that location, their death certificate would be filed in Hall County.
